

How We Use Your Information Privacy Notice for Older Pupils (Full)

Orchard Hill College Academy Trust

November 2020

Introduction

This Privacy Notice (Notice) is to help you understand how and why the School collects your personal data and what we do with that information.

The School is part of Orchard Hill College Academy Trust (the Trust). Because the Trust runs the School it is ultimately responsible for how the School handles your personal data.

If you have any questions about this notice please talk to your form tutor.

What is "personal data"?

Personal data is information which is about you.

This includes information such as your name, date of birth and address as well as things like exam results, medical details, unique pupil number and information about how you behave. CCTV images, photos and video recordings of you are also your personal data.

Where we get your personal data from and who we share it with

We get your personal data from different sources such as your teachers, parents, your old schools and any future school, other pupils and their parents, as well as from people outside of the School such as the Government.

Sometimes, we will also share information with these people and organisations, for example, we will tell your parents about how well you are doing at school.

Why we use your personal data and our lawful basis for doing so

The School needs to use your information in order to:

1. Teach you and other pupils;
2. Look after you and other people such as other pupils;
3. Make sure that you and others are following school rules;
4. Make sure that the School complies with the law, is well managed and that we protect the Trust and the School; and
5. Promote the School and tell people about what we do here e.g. we may use photographs of you in our prospectus, on our website or in social media.

We can only use your personal data if we have a good reason to do so. This is called having a "lawful basis" to use your personal data. Our lawful bases are as follows:

- Public task: This allows the Trust to use personal data where doing so is necessary in order to perform a task in the public interest. For example, we are performing a task in the public interest when we teach and look after you.
- Legal obligation: The Trust might need to use your information in order to comply with a legal obligation, for example, to report a concern about your wellbeing to Social Services or the police. Occasionally we may have a legal obligation to share your personal data with third parties such as the court.
- Vital interests: Although this won't happen very often, we may need to use your information to protect you or someone else. For example, to prevent someone from being seriously harmed.

- Legitimate interests: This means that the Trust is using your information where this is necessary for the Trust's legitimate interests or someone else's legitimate interests. Legitimate interests only applies where it is not overridden by your interests, rights and freedoms.

Our purposes and lawful bases in more detail

This section gives you more information about why the School uses your personal data, where we get it from and who it is shared with, and which lawful bases apply. It does not say anything different to the sections above but goes into more detail.

We have used a colour code system so that you can see which lawful basis we are relying on for each of the purposes described below.

The letters highlighted in different colours below refer to the lawful basis. So LI means legitimate interests, PI means public task, LO means lawful obligation and VI means vital interests. - It is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. For example, this allows us to share information with our legal advisors and insurers.

Consent

photographs and videos. This is where we cannot rely on legitimate interests or it being in the public interest. If we ask for your consent to use your personal data you can take back this consent at any time.

Any use of your information before you withdraw your consent remains valid. Please speak to your form teacher if you would like to withdraw any consent that you have given.

Sending information to other countries

In certain circumstances, we may / will send your information to countries which do not have the same level of protection for personal data as there is in the UK. For example, when we are organising a school trip overseas.

The European Commission has produced a list of countries which have adequate data protection rules. The list can be found here: https://ec.europa.eu/info/law/law-topic/data-protection/international-dimension-data-protection/adequacy-decisions_en

If the country that we are sending your information to is not on the list, or is not a country within the EEA (which means the European Union, Liechtenstein, Norway and Iceland), then it might not have the same level of protection for personal data as there is in the UK.

We will provide you with details about the safeguards which we have in place outside of this privacy notice. If you have any questions about the safeguards that are in place please contact your form tutor.

For how long do we keep your personal data?

We keep your information for as long as we need to in order to educate and look after you. We may keep information after you have left the school and in some cases for a longer time than usual but we would only do so if we had a good reason and only if we are allowed to do so under data protection law.

Please see our Information and Records Retention Policy for more detailed information. This can be found on the school website.

This applies where (a) the personal data has been provided by you; (b) the basis that we are relying on to process your personal data is consent or contract (please see "Our lawful basis for using your personal data" above); and (c) the information is being processed by us on computer.
